

Lesson: Fruit trees can be grown in dry climates by harvesting rainwater around tree using a bund or pit

1. Traditional practice: no water collected

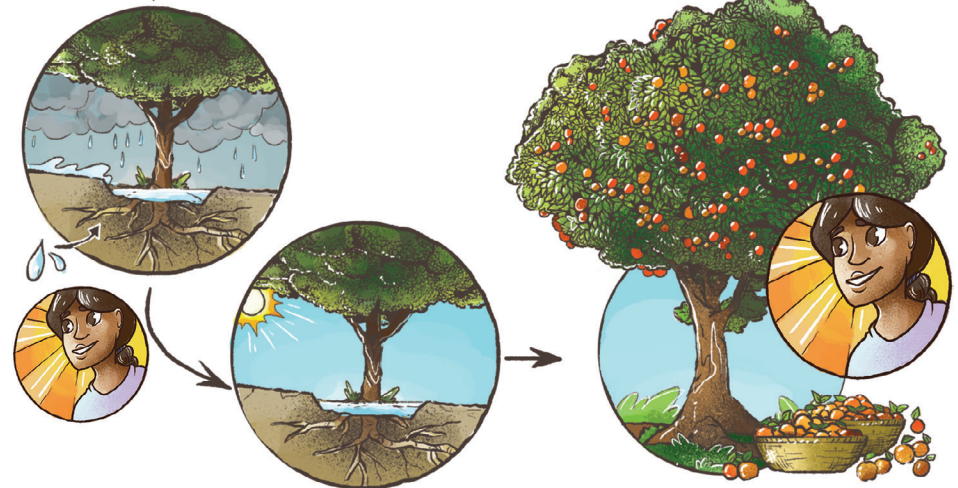

2. Low fruit yield (e.g. apple)

3. Improved practice: create short wall or pit around tree

4. Rain collected

5. High fruit yield